

EMPOWERING NURSES IN TODAY'S CHALLENGES

Monday, October 28, 8:30-4:30, 7 CEUs

Open to SNA Nurses only

$25 for SNA RNs with Dues to General Fund

$130 for SNA RNs with Dues to Charity

Breakfast/Lunch Included

Presented by: Laura Mahlmeister PhD, RN

JOIN US FOR AN ENLIGHTENING and FRIGHTENING DAY

- Do you appropriately activate the Rapid Response Team?
- Do you communicate using SBAR and escalate your concerns?
- Do you involve your Lead nurse in a timely manner?
- Will your documentation stand up in a court of law?
- Do you know and follow hospital policy?

Nurses have a duty to plan and implement safe and effective care as recognized and required by healthcare law, licensing agencies and the ANA Code of Ethics for Nurses. Dr. Mahlmeister will address the major claims of nursing negligence and violation of healthcare law.

OBJECTIVES

1. Identify the major claims of negligence levelled against nurses.
2. Identify at least four legal resources available to nurses to increase power and self-determination in practice.
3. Describe the legal duties of nurses assigned to the Preceptor role or as a "Resource" nurse as defined under California law.
4. State the primary duties of the Clinical Lead Nurse as the unit-coordinator of care.
5. List at least four duties of the registered nurse who is floated to another unit.
6. Discuss the "Patient Bill of Rights and Responsibilities" as it relates to the nurse's duty as patient advocate.
7. State the primary goals of requesting a Team Meeting or Huddle" during a shift
8. Describe at least four pro-active nursing measures that should be taken in these situations:

Concerns about immediate risk to patient safety	Identification of a Medication Errors
Missed patient care events related to short staffing	Identification of a "Near Miss"

7 (seven) CE Contact Hours

BRN Provider #: CEP 5296

Provider approved by the California Board of Registered Nursing
$25 refundable if cancellation received by October 6 or SNA cancels class.

Use QR code or link below to REGISTER!

REGISTRATION

Use QR code or link to anonymously send your concerns.

CONCERNS

Class located at: Hyatt Regency, 170 Railroad St., Santa Rosa